Originality Certificiation

We, the undersigned student and parent/guardian certify that we have read, understand, abided, and will continue to abide by all rules and regulations of the iWRITE Publishing Contest 2023. We further certify that the poem is the student's original creation and is not a reproduction, in whole or in part, of another piece of published work. We understand that all poetry will be judged for publishing, and if selected, the poem becomes the property of iWRITE Nonprofit Organization. We certify that we understand and agree to the terms of the contest put forth in the Rules. iWRITE reserves the right to disqualify any poems found in violation of the Rules pertaining to originality. The undersigned represents that they thoroughly understand that this is a complete and final release and indemnity agreement, that they are voluntarily entering into this Agreement, and that no representations, promises, or statements are made by any iWRITE, or any agent, attorney, or other representatives of iWRITE has influenced the undersigned in causing them to sign this agreement.

Copyright Approval

By signing I give the iWRITE Non-Profit Organization, permission to publish my child/student's work if chosen for the Anthology Project "I Write Short Stories By Kids, For Kids." I understand that advancements and royalties will not be paid to either myself or my child for this project. I understand that the entire Anthology will be copyrighted, published, and distributed by iWRITE, in association with LongTale Publishing. I also understand each child will have the right to use their story for future publication if they so choose. If a story is republished in the future by an outside press, iWRITE or LongTale Publishing will not be required to pay royalties after the fact and will have the right to keep all stories published inside the anthology, but not outside of the anthology project. I also grant permission for my child's name, grade, and school district to be listed inside the anthology.
